SENIOR CLASS SPONSORS:

Mr. Dunham, Miss Allman, Miss Comer

Seniors Were Represented in all School Activities.

The Hammond High School Association was headed by Palmer Singleton, president, David Kochery, vice-president, and Helen Cody, recorder. Singleton appointed Patty ReMaley head of the Red Cross; Ingeborg Radloff secretary of safety; George Erdmann secretary of justice; and Bill Kuyper chairman of student activities. Seniors assisting Kuyper on the central social committee were Virgene Brown, secretary, Doris Straight, Estelle Camp, Gene Christian, Jeanette Chartier, and Betty Anne McEwen. Tom Chintis, Julius Pewowar, and Richard Reed were the senior members of the Senate; thirty-four out of fifty-four House members were also seniors. Tom Chintis was elected president of the senior class, Arvid Anderson, vice-president, June Tangerman secretary, and May Luney, treasurer. Miss Comer, Miss Allman, and Mr. Dunham were class sponsors. The faculty elected 74 seniors to National Honor Society; the officers were Julius Pewowar, president, Julia O'Donnell, vice-president, Mary Ellen David, secretary, and Charlotte Hisey, treasurer. The Hammond High debating squad of four seniors, Richard Reed, Arvid Anderson, Julius Pewowar, and Eugene Souigny won first place in the Indiana National League Tournament at Purdue in March. Two senior girls, Betty Spaulding and June Demerling won first place in the oratorical declamation and humorous declamation respectively. The editor-in-chief of the Calumet Herald was David Griffith. Seniors on the editorial staff were Arvid Anderson, June Robison, Betty Spaulding, Bob Weiss, and June Hinkel; there were twenty other seniors on the staff of the paper. On the Dunes editorial staff were Jane Calnon, editor-in-chief, Roberta Prior, Mildred Mikulas, Mary Ellen David, Ruth Mae Evens, May Luney, Sterling Scott, and Dorothy Benson. The seniors on the business staff were Alice Buege, Charles Jacobson, Arthur Frisk, Hy Mossler, and Eugene Jaques. Twenty-seven seniors were in the Choral Club; Bill Dunfee was president, Pete Ekonomos, secretary, Charles Jacobson, librarian, Betty Newlin, treasurer, and Julia O'Donnell, accompanist. Gavit, Miko, Scheffel, Warner, and Bradford were the seniors on the wrestling team. Tom Millen was the only senior on the tennis team. Hasse and Ziemba were co-captains on both the football and the basketball team. On the first string of the football team were fourteen seniors — Barney, Boyle, Chintis, Crider, Gargas, Hasse, Katona, Kowaliszyn, Plantinga, Phillippi, Reese, Tuskan, Wagner, and Ziemba. Easton's track and cross country teams were bolstered by seniors Barney, Chintis, Cobb, Ekonomos, Griffith, Ingram, Mair, Williams, and Ziemba. The twelve senior varsity swimming members were Barney, Borem, Carroll, Christian, Derner, DeLay, DeLong, Erdmann, McCay, McLean, Peterson, and Probasco as manager. The senior Kessler-ites were Chintis, Evans, Hasse, Ingram, Scott, and Ziemba. Their manager was "Chubby" Anderson. Three of the cheer leaders were seniors: Ted Baciu, Donna Heineman, and Ed Easterday. Outstanding girls on the G. A. C. were Beatrice Bereolos, president, Alice Krug, vice-president, Genevieve Hartzler, treasurer, Dorothy Samuelson, secretary, Deloris Ashby, head of sports, Shirley Hinkel, Donna Heineman, Geneva Heath, and Angie Tsouchlos. On the girls' swimming team were Matovina, Elstun, Heineman, Daily, Demyanovich, Eaton, and Mulhall. In the cast of the senior play were Julia O'Donnell, Richard Reed, Mary E. David, June Tangerman, Art Frisk, Dorothy Loesch, June Hinkel, Perry Mair, Ed Raskosky, Betty Newlin, Mildred Milenz, Dorothy Samuelson, Bernard Sosin, Harry Gebel, Doris DeYoung, Cecil Derner, Ray Peterson, Esther Konsynski, Mary Miller, Dick Reed was valedictorian of the 1939 class; Shirlee Smith was salutatorian.

Boys' Aeronautics Club Listened to Local Aviators.

Mike Burson, an experienced parachute jumper, spoke to the club in October, explaining the parts and use of the chute. Mr. Straley Thorpe, Hammond attorney and licensed pilot, discussed aerodynamics and aeronautics at the November meeting. Both the girls' and the boys' aeronautics clubs visited the Municipal Airport and the Rosenwald Museum in December. Charles Garrett and Bob Smith won aviation instructions in a radio quiz contest. Model airplanes were demonstrated at several meetings. The club sponsored a model airplane contest in May.

Any boy interested in aeronautics is eligible for membership. Mr. Matson is the faculty head.

The members conducted all of their meetings in French. The group gave a party which was typical of a celebration held annually in France, the twelfth night after Christmas. A small group of the members gave several plays, "Un Garçon qui ne desire pas aller à l'école," "Le Coiffure," and "Un Travail Intéressant." The club sang French songs at every meeting. For one meeting the group went to Chicago to see a few French plays presented at the International House on the University of Chicago campus.

The French Club, which is directed by Miss Robards, is open to the more advanced students of French. French is spoken throughout the meetings to acquaint the student better with the language.

German Club Attended the German Movie, "Emil Und Die Detektive", at the University of Chicago.

The club gave an evening party as an initiation for the new members. Several members of the group gave the shadow-play, "Rotkappchen." At the International House in the University of Chicago the club saw the movie, "Emil Und Die Detektive." Later in the day the members toured the campus of the university. The club joined the International Federation of German Clubs. Dr. Menken, who had recently returned from Europe, spoke on the schools and the life of the young people in Germany. Members enjoyed refreshments at every meeting.

The German Club is organized for those students who want to further their study in German. Boys and girls with a grade of "C" or above are eligible for membership. Miss Gertrude Schuelke is sponsor.

S. P. Q. R. Read the Latin Newspaper, "Acta Diurna".

In their meetings the S. P. Q. R. studied the Roman calendar and the lives and customs of the early Latins. They also made Latin mottos for each month, read the newspaper, "Acta Diurna," and played games involving Latin words. The club gave Mitchison's "The Conquered" and Snedeker's "The Forgotten Daughter" to the library.

The S. P. Q. R. is open to all Latin students, except 9B's, the purpose of the club being to further interest in Latin and its value to a student. Miss Buck sponsors the organization.

National Honor Society Heard Several Speakers.

The group were given membership cards in the annual auditorium session. Mr. Spohn spoke to the club on the value of a college education. The Reverend Jasper Cox discussed the position of National Honor Society members in the world. Mr. L. L. Bomberger, local lawyer, spoke on getting and keeping jobs. The last meeting of the year was an outdoor party at Thornton Forest Preserve.

Membership of the National Honor Society consists of not more than fifteen per cent of the senior class whose scholarship rank is in the first quarter of the class, and who are outstanding in the qualities of service, leadership, and character. The high school faculty elects the group. Miss Marie Gustafson is sponsor.

Commercial Club Won First Prize for the Best Float in the Homecoming Parade.

Mr. Jordan and Mr. Semons from the Indiana State Employment Agency, spoke on employment and unemployment on November 15, and listed qualifications needed for the business world. Miss Perle Parvis gave a talk on business behavior on November 29. On December 13, the members played games and enjoyed refreshments at a Christmas party. January 10, Mr. Clarence Minas of the E. C. Minas Department Store gave an informal talk on commercial work. The club visited the Hammond Times and learned the intricacies of printing the daily paper. On March 21, Theria Pollard, Marie Woerner, Thelma Martinson, and Alice Falk presented the play, "Thursday Evening". Alexandria Duro gave a Russian dance, and Betty Jane Kroer gave a tap dance. Alexandria Duro and Frances Kowalyshyn illustrated the proper way to enter a theater.

The club won first prize for the best decorated float in the Homecoming parade. Miss Recie Hodson of Gregg College gave a shorthand demonstration in April. Theria Pollard and Henrietta Griese talked on business ethics. The club visited the Calumet National Bank and Borden's Dairy.

The club is organized for those junior and senior commercial students who have a "B" average. The purpose of the club is to increase the interest in the commercial department and to raise individual scholarship records. Miss M. E. Scott directs the group.

Dunes Staff Developed the Theme of "Steel" in the 1939 Dunes.

THE 1939 DUNES

The staff edited the 1939 Dunes. The group sponsored the black-faced minstrel, "Gentlemen Be Seated!" The fifty Dunes room agents sold 1,000 books. Jane Calnon was editor in chief; Dorothy Benson, senior editor; Ruth Mae Evens and Mary Ellen David, club editors; "Bobby" Prior and Iris Lentner, publicity managers; May Luney, class editor; Jane Wolf, head of girls' sports, and Sterling Scott, head of boys' sports. Mildred Mikulas and Beatrice Hesterman were bookkeepers and subscription managers. Other members of the editorial staff were Nancy Black, Nancy Cleveland, Jean Keith, and Ora Mae Calnon. Fred Carter, Bill Smith, Ralph Vogel, Charles Jacobson, Hy Mossler, Eugene Jaques, Ingeborg Radloff, Art Frisk, Jeanne Wendell, Alice Buege, Bernadette Sterbenc, Imogene Huston, and Ruth Manis solicited advertisements. Dorothy Benson and Jane Calnon were the Dunes representatives at the National Scholastic Press Association Conference at Indianapolis.

The Dunes preserves in its art work and half-tones a record of each year's pleasures, pranks, and accomplishments of clubs, classes, and athletic organizations. The book, which is self supporting, is edited by a staff of representative students who must maintain a "B" average in scholastic work. Miss McGranahan is advisor for the editorial staff while Mr. Scherer directs the business group.

Calumet Herald Published School News.

The Calumet Herald, under the direction of Mr. A. T. Bolt, participated in several extra activities last year other than that of editing the weekly publication of the paper. Members from the Herald Staff attended the National Scholastic Press Convention at Indianapolis and the regular staff ranked high in competition at the annual Medill Press Conference held at Northwestern University. The paper joined the national high school union of student publications, which entitles the staff to a critical service for the improvement of the paper. A press bureau was created to facilitate the promotion of publicity of school news in local daily papers. Several members of the staff assisted for a time in the editing of special school news. Headed by editor in chief David Griffith, staff members were Arvid Anderson, managing editor; Bob Weiss, sports editor; Betty Spaulding, feature editor; Julius Pewowar and Doris DeYoung, press bureau editors; David Kochery, business manager; June Robison, advertising manager; and June Hinkel, circulation manager. At Christmas time, the usual five column eight page paper was supplanted by a four page, six column edition. This was the first time a six column Herald made its appearance since 1930.

The staff of the Calumet Herald, through the columns of the paper, endeavors to develop school spirit, to encourage worthy school enterprises, to foster clean sportsmanship, to serve as a medium for the expression of student opinion, to acquaint parents with the progress of the school, to promote good scholarship, and to work for the welfare of Hammond High.

The paper is self supporting and is printed by the Hammond High press department.

Automobile Club Attended Judge Stodola's City Court.

Joseph Stodola, judge of the city court, spoke on improving traffic regulations and enforcement in Hammond; Tom Martinson, chief of police, on means of reducing accidents; Don Buck, a state trooper, on ways and means of handling the traffic problems. Ray Dorschel gave a demonstration of the mechanics and care of the different parts of an automobile. The group visited the traffic court conducted by Judge Stodola. In cooperation with the Student Association the club presented a safety movie in an auditorium session. The Automobile Club with the monitors enjoyed an evening party. The club entered a float in the merchants' Christmas parade. The club instigated the "no parking" regulation in front of the high school building.

The organization, directed by Mr. Thorsen, carries on extensive safety campaigns each year. Any junior or senior who holds a motor vehicle operator's license may be a member.

Red Cross Created a Loan Fund.

The club's main project was their loan fund. The group lent money to students in need of medical care. The students were allowed to repay the loan at their convenience. There were seven loans made this year. Although the project was only a trial, it was successful.

The Red Cross Council, advised by school nurse, Miss Von Grempe, is composed of one member from each advisory, each pupil in school being a member. It works along the same line as the Senior Red Cross and seeks to carry out this organization's aims.

Library Served Seven Hundred Pupils Daily.

There were thirty on the general library staff, 18 on the room 116 staff, and 14 on the room 211 library staff. Seven hundred pupils were served during each day, approximately eighty-four a period. Out of the fifty-two magazines taken, thirty-three were indexed in the Reader's Guide and fifteen were donated by teachers and other interested persons. Six daily newspapers were taken: The Chicago Tribune, The Chicago Daily News, The Hammond Times, The New York Times, and two French papers. Last year seventeen clubs donated books to the library, totaling $120.94. About three hundred books were received as a gift donation from the English department. The Board of Education appropriated about $500 for books.

The library staff assists Miss Hawver, head librarian. Helpers check study hall admits, direct pupils in locating books and information, aid in checking pupils' fines, repair books and magazines, and preserve the appearance of the library.

Miss Exley, of the Hammond High English department, and Marilyn Watt aid in supervising library activities.

Biology Club Cared for All Plants in the School.

Members of the club took care of all the plants in the high school building. They attended the flower show on Navy Pier in Chicago. The group took several field trips, studying plant and bird life. The club gave two books to the high school library: "Wilderness Wonders" by Chapman and "The Fight to Live" by Ditmars.

Any biology student interested in biological problems and having an average of "A" or "B" in biology may be a member of the club which Miss Reeder sponsors.

The social committee, with the social representatives, sponsored ten after school dances and four evening parties during the year. In the early fall, the groups gave the Indian Summer dance; in November, the football dance in honor of the Sidney Lanier football team from Montgomery, Alabama; on January 7, the H. H. S. Summer Queen and Bermuda cruise dance; and in February, the Famous Faces dance and party.

This group originates, conducts, and sponsors after school and association dances and is composed of one member from each advisory. Miss McPherson and the secretary of student activities are in charge.

Social Representatives Gave a Series of Seasonal Dances.

Hi-Y Attended Various Conventions.

In June 1938, the club sent three delegates to the Second National Hi-Y Congress in Berea, Kentucky. Twenty members represented the Hammond Hi-Y at the State Conference held in Danville, Indiana in November. The district Conference was held at Crown Point in April. In October the Hi-Y and the G. A. C. attended the Chicago-DePauw football game at the University of Chicago. Clark, Tech, and Hammond High groups held a city wide initiation at the Civic Center in November. The club organized a softball team.

The Hi-Y is part of the National Y. M. C. A. connected with high schools. Those who are members of the Hi-Y are also members of the Y. M. C. A. The Hi-Y aims to maintain a high standard of character and leadership, and abides by the "Y" platform; "clean speech, clean scholarship, clean athletics, and clean living." Mr. Seddelmeyer is faculty sponsor.

Speech Arts Members Attended the National Forensic League Contest.

New members were taken into the club at an evening party in November. The initiation was a formal ceremony followed by informal entertainment. Two major debate tourneys, both won by Hammond, were sponsored by the club during the year, one on November 19 and the other on February 25. Cities of Elgin, West Aurora, Harvey, and North Judson were represented. In the National Forensic League contest held at Purdue University on March 9 and 10, Betty Spaulding, Julius Pewowar, and June Demerling won first place in oratorical declamation, extemporaneous speaking, and humorous declamation respectively. Second place in dramatic declamation was won by Ruth Kaun. Dick Reed, Eugene Souligny, Arvid Anderson, and Julius Pewowar, the debate team, won the debate contest, enabling them to attend the National Debate Contest at Beverly Hills, California. At their regular club meeting after the contest, these members presented their winning declamations as entertainment.

The Speech Arts Club is open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have accumulated at least ten points in forensics. This club, advised by Mr. Reed and Mr. Scherer, encourages all speech activities.

Arts and Crafts Club Won First Prize of $100 in the Merchants' Christmas Parade.

The initiation was a social beach party at the Wells Street Beach in Gary. The members took an educational trip to Chicago, visiting the Art Institute, the Academy of Fine Arts, the Vogue School, the Professional School of Art, the Models' Fashion Show, and Marshall Field's toy department and modern homes. Members designed football badges, the setting for "Help Yourself," staged the Hammond High School Amateur Show at the Civic Center, and sponsored the Purple and White Surrealistic Ball. The club planned a trip to Chicago and a pot-luck dinner. The Christmas float entered by the members in the Merchants' Parade won first prize of $100. Marshall Smith, graduate architect from the University of Illinois, spoke before the group.

The organization strives to further the art knowledge of its members and to help other school organizations advertise their activities through attractive posters. Miss Schubkegel instructs the group.

The club sang at the Odd Fellows' installation, Hammond churches, luncheon clubs, public meetings, banquets, and the Music Festival. The group also sang for the American Legion, the Art Ball, auditorium sessions, plays, the 1939 graduation, and caroled at Christmas time at hospitals, the home for the aged, sanitariums, orphanages, and the home for invalids. The singers, directed by Miss Alyce Cain, made several recordings and sang on various radio programs.

The Choral Club consists of the best singers from the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs. A high grade of choral music is used. The group always appears in purple robes.

Boys' Glee Club Sang for the P. T. A. Meetings.

The club sang at auditorium sessions, at the 1938 graduation exercises, P. T. A. meetings, for the Spanish American War veterans, and for luncheon clubs, schools, churches, and the American Legion. The group made several recordings. Miss Alyce Cain was the sponsor.

The organization teaches the members the value and beauty of group singing and acquaints them with good vocal music and musicians.

Hammond High School Association Organized the Student Forum.

A joint committee from the House and Senate met every Monday night of the first semester to revise the Constitution in order to bring it up to date. The first student forum in the history of the school gave interested students the chance to study modern problems and world affairs. The meetings were held regularly every three weeks in the auditorium. Speakers on foreign affairs were Mr. Oscar Haney of Hammond, Mr. Alvin Pitcher of the University of Chicago, Dr. M. L. Birkhead of Kansas City, and Dr. A. W. Cordier of Manchester College. Speakers on everyday problems were Mr. Gerald Wendt of the New York World's Fair, Judge Maurice Crites of Hammond, the Reverend John Paul Jones of Whiting and Mr. Hugh N. Johnson of Chicago. These speakers were secured with the aid of the sponsor of the Hammond open forum, Palmer Singleton, Association president, was the student sponsor; Miss Thelma Robison, faculty adviser. To make our social affairs more successful the Amateur Show replaced the Annual Spring Fair and the Junior-Senior Prom was opened for this year on a trial basis. The Association guided an intramural program of sports and games, and sent twenty-five students to the Indiana Student Forum association at South Side High School in Fort Wayne on April 21, where housing and health problems of America were discussed in the morning session; foreign relations and youth problems were debated in the afternoon meetings. Ray Longhway was elected president of the Indiana Student Forum Association.

The Hammond High School Association is a self-government organization that promotes a more democratic school spirit, maintains good discipline in the school, trains for citizenship, and aids in the direction of all school activities. Miss Avis Pitcher sponsors the Senate; Mr. Nelson, the House.

Monitors Adopted New Checking System.

The monitors had two parties; the first one was a three course dinner and the other was a dance given with the Automobile Club. The group originated a system by which they kept a more accurate record of students who went through the halls. Monitors recorded all information on admits issued to students who were in the halls, enabling the teachers to keep a closer check on pupils.

Any junior or senior approved by the faculty is eligible to be a monitor. The group supervises the conduct of pupils in halls. Miss Strange advises the monitors, and the secretary of discipline aids.

"Growing Pains," Comedy of Youth, was an Amusing Rouverol Production.

For their annual play the senior class of 1939 selected "Growing Pains," a comedy written by Auranian Rouverol, author of the Judge Hardy series. The story is centered around the lives of young boys and girls of high school age. Julia O'Donnell and Art Frisk were selected to play the leading roles of Terry and George McIntyre respectively. June Tangerman and Dick Reed portrayed the distracted parents. Other members of the cast were Mildred Mielenz as Prudence Darling; Mary Ellen David as Mrs. Patterson; Esther Konsynski as Elsie; Perry Mair as Dutch; Dorothy Samuelson as Sophie, the maid; Bernard Sosin as the traffic officer; Ed Raskowski as Brian; Harry Gebel as Omar; Ray Peterson as Hal; Cecil Derner as Pete; June Hinkel as Patty; Betty Jane Newlin as Jane; Mary Rita Miller as Miriam; and Doris DeYoung as Vivian. Velma Presson, Aleta Hoepfner, and Bill Kuyper had non-speaking parts.

Dunes Staff Presented Minstrel for Students' Enjoyment.

The Dunes staff presented the black-faced minstrel, "Gentlemen, Be Seated" in an auditorium session February 28. Perry Mair, acting as interlocutor was supported by four end men: Herman Bauer as Dippy-finger; Cecil Derner as Digitalis; Abe White as Sideswipe; and Art Frisk as Skipflea. The musical numbers were as follows; Bill Kuyper as Mr. Fossil played a clarinet solo; Warren Schrieber as Mr. Smoke-screen did a "squeeze-box" number. A quartet sang "It Was Just An Old Bottle." The trombone serenade was given by the Dark Town Swingeros. Howard Steffey as Sapphire played his saxophone; Mr. Huffine as Black-eyed Susan played the piano. Roberta Prior as Opal Ruby Pearl Garnet Jones danced for the minstrel. Miss Oza Cunningham was director. Miss Alyce Cain was musical director.

All Hammond High School Amateur Show was a Definite Success.

In place of the annual spring fair, Hammond High School sponsored an all school amateur show which was held at the Civic Center April 14. The setting for the entertainment was an old-fashioned colonial southern garden. Mickey Isley's orchestra furnished the accompaniment. An applause meter was used to determine the winners who were Elaine Ramage, first; Jean Stoddard, second; and Patricia Lordier, third. Other contestants were Gilbert DeLaney, Kathryn Kimmell, Charles Jacobson, Dorothy Samuelson, June Tangerman, Peter Piazza, Marilyn Weber, Susanne Pugh, Henry Cleveland, Bill Harder, the brass sextet composed of Floyd Jabaay, Frank Meltzer, Glenn King, David Kochery, Eugene Pierce, and Jimmy Lape; Bruce DeCamp, Doris Jaeger, Margery Anderson, Catharine Maman, Max McCray.

The proceeds from the 3,500 tickets sold were $1,105.96. Expenditures were $277.80 leaving a profit of $838.16 one half of which went to the auditorium fund, and the other half was divided among the various organizations which sold tickets. The organizations which met their quota were Ace of Clubs, Arts and Crafts, Hi-Y, and Speech Arts.

Mr. C. M. Seddlemeyer was general chairman; Miss Oza Cunningham was in charge of dramatic interpretations; and Miss Alyce Cain in charge of musical interpretation. The student committee in charge of the show was Margaret Applegate, Nancy Black, Estelle Camp, Helen Cody, Bill Doege, George Erdmann, Gertrude Gammie, Adelbert Gauthier, David Griffith, James King, David Kochery, Bill Kuyper, Lois Nuoffer, Julia O'Donnell, Julius Pewowar, Patty Remaley, Marion Wright, Don Rippe, John Roberts, Angeline Rorris, Warren Schrieber, Palmer Singleton, Tony Wawro, Jane Ann Washburn, and Ruth Wolters.

"Help Yourself" was a Humorous Satire on Big Business.

The play, "Help Yourself," was presented December 9 in the high school auditorium. Gene Christian and Marge Hulett were seen in the leading roles of Christopher Stringer and Peggy Danforth. Christopher Stringer, a young man unemployed, established himself as manager of the Kubinski affair which did not exist. The outcome of Chris's idea amused a large audience. Members of the supporting cast were Louis Sosin as Frederick Bittlesby; Warren Schrieber as Uncle John; Gertrude Gammie as Fanny Keane; Ted Baci as Messenger; Shirley Farcus as Miss Breckenridge; Dorothy Horton as Miss Oglesby; Allen DuChene as Tony, the barber; Tony Wawro as a job hunter; Eugene Sculigny as Schuyler Danforth; Lionel Neiman as A. B. Alexander; Jim Maguire as Philip Nichols; Ralph Flusche as John C. Holman; Basil Blankenburg as Henry Williams; Bob McCay as Nicholas Bradley; Bill Thread as the office boy; and Irene Sartini as the woman.

Calumet Herald Exposed Anatomy of Fraternity Life.

Climaxing the subscription drive of the Calumet Herald, the mighty Herald art players presented a clever auditorium skit, "The I. O. U. Fraternity Frolics."

The scene of the play was cast in a typical Big Ten University portraying fraternity life.

Julius Pewowar was cast as a suave salesman, Palmer Singleton as the college radical, Dave Kochery as the house cassanova, Charles Jacobson as the jitterbug of the key board, Harry Gebel as the love sick swain, Arvid Anderson as a medical student, Dave Griffith as the pledge. Doris DeYoung as the woman in the case had none of Julius Pewowar's difficulty in selling Heralds to the fraternity. They succumbed to her smooth salesman-ship tactics.

Students Enjoyed Gay Social Season.

Herald Dance

The annual Herald dance was held September 25 in "Pop Jenks' Sugar Bowl" down in the boys' gym. Clyde Shropshire's band furnished the music. Students, selected by popular vote of the student-body who best portrayed the characters in the "Harold Teen" comic strip, were awarded appropriate prizes. Some of the students enjoyed ping pong, dart ball, schuffle board in the cafeteria.

Indian Summer Dance

The dance October 25 carried out the setting of Indian Summer. The boys' gym was decorated with colorful autumn leaves and a huge Indian wigwam was at one end of the floor. The magnavox furnished the music.

Sidney Lanier Dance

The cafeteria, decorated with goal posts and football insignia was the Poet's corner for the party held after the Hammond High-Sidney Lanier game on November 11.

Summer Cruise Dance

The Summer Cruise dance was held on January 7. Students who attended wore summer clothes and danced to the music of world famous bands through the medium of the magnavox.

February Faces Dance

On February 18, students danced in an atmosphere of Famous faces in the boys' gym which was decorated with caricatures of students and famous men born in February. The magnavox furnished the music.

Purple and White Ball

Turning the boys' gym into a surrealist's conception of Hammond High activities, the Arts and Crafts Club gave its annual party. Every student who attended wore purple and white. Ed Gruener's orchestra entertained the dancers.

May Dance

A huge multi-streamered maypole in the center of the blossom decked gym was the attraction for dancers at the May Dance, May 13. Silver balloons and spring flowers, soft lights and Ossie Thrane's music made the social finale a gay one.

1939 Prom

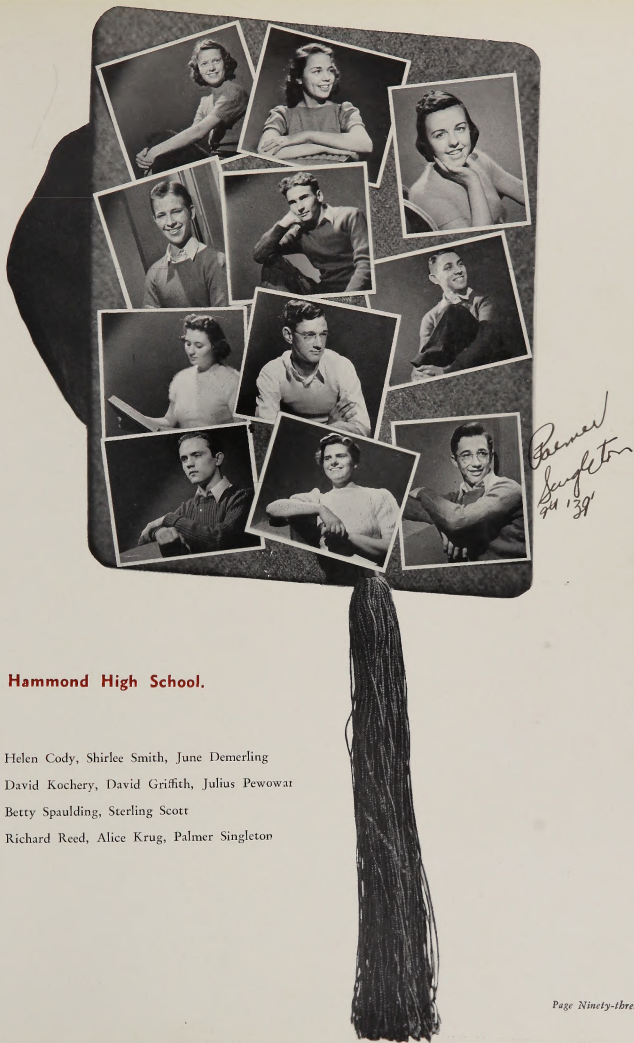

Using romantic Hawaii for its decorations, programs, and special numbers, the junior class entertained the seniors at the Civic Center June 8. Noel Hall's orchestra played.

Wildcats Had Brilliant Season with Seven Wins and Two Losses.

Chintis broke through again

The 1938-'39 Wildcat gridgers opened the season with aggressive line and backfield play against Hirsch of Chicago, defeating them 13-0. Defeat came at the hands of Emerson's Norsemen. Costly fumbles aided with powerful Brown and Gold end runs provided the first defeat; 13-0. Washington's Solons displayed a dazzling 30 yard sneak pass in the waning minutes of the evenly fought fray to make a Senator victory 7-0. The Cats had shown a powerful offense which was just short of pay dirt. Stopped by the stone wall defensive Purple and White linemen the Lew Wallace Hornets came out on the short end 7-0. Finding the winning spark, the Huffmen functioned smoothly defeating a smaller Roosevelt eleven 19-0. Cross field jaunts in a last half assault provided the winning powders over the Clark team, ending with a 31-13 tally Homecoming Week With bands, bonfires, and pep sessions as an incentive toward victory, the Wildcats refined the Whiting Oilers in no crude fashion in a hard fought tilt 13-0. Sidney Lanier of Montgomery, Alabama were entertained in true football style, the Wildcats taking the count to defeat the Poets 26-0. Winding up the season with steamroller tactics the Purple and White let go a powerful offensive to defeat Tech of Hammond 33-0. Wally Ziemba, giant Purple tackle rated Dick Miller's 1938 all-state football team. Chintis was named on the second team and Tuskan on the third squad.

Purple Won 20, Lost 8 for 1939 Record.

The Wildcats blew the lid off the basketball season by defeating Horace Mann 34-18. The footballers recovering their timing and shooting, aided the Cat cause in a close one with Lew Wallace 28-24. Traveling to Decatur, Illinois, the Purple won a 25-18 verdict. Purple fans had their hearts in their mouths when Tech lost 14-15 in a last second sleeper shot. Emerson, most touted team in the Conference, used fakes and potshots to an advantage to give the Cats their first defeat 19-26. The Cats lost a four point verdict 25-29 in the tangle with the Senators of Washington. Christmas time during basketball seasons means holiday tournaments and second gussing before the March wind blows Indiana's "Madness" to a close. Contestants in the Hammond tourney included the Alices of Vincennes, Frankfort's Hotdogs, Clark's Pioneers, Fort Wayne South's Archers (defending state champs), and Hammond Tech's Tigers. The first foe to fall to the Purple and White was Tech's Tigers 42-33. Next the Vincennes Alices, a small, speedy quintet fell under a heavier Wildcat rebound attack to the tune of 37-24. Encountering Frankfort's blazing Hotdogs, who had defeated Fort Wayne previously in a thrill-packed 40-42 duel, the Cats poured it on from all corners to capture the varsity squad overcame a 10 point lead at the half to come back and win a 41-34 count from the New Albany Bulldogs.

Class tells when tourney time rolls around. Sectional pairings gave H. H. S. a bye. Edison of Gary threw a scare into the Purple ranks in the closing minutes with a final 33-25. Again Tech was overthrown 47-32. Entering the finals with Whiting, it was nip and tuck all the way until the Cats won out 31-27 to win the seventh consecutive sectional.

LaPorte, unheralded Maple City five, came through when the Cats failed to connect on foul shots and scored 27 tallies to the defeated Cats 20 in the first game of the Regional to finish the '38-'39 season.

the cup 31-25. Renewing the season the Powellmen of Valparaiso took it on the chin 42-35. Roosevelt's new gym helped a hapless Rider five very little as the count ended 40-28. The jinx of the Gary Memorial gym aided the Froebel Red Devils to win 28-20. Seeking revenge, Valpo's Vikings again took it on the chin in a last half assault 35-28. Clark's Pioneers were kept out of the ball game 37-25. In a close one the Whiting Oilers were in the game till the fourth quarter when the Purple opened up and paved the way 41-30. Scott scored 22 of the 41 tallies. Journeying to Muncie, the Cagers released an over-head pass attack to the bewilderment of the Bearcats 24-21. Jeffersonville's Red Devils stripped the nets for 24 tallies while H. H. S. tallied 23 in a killer diller. The flu took hold of the Wildcats title chances to enable Emerson (tied for first) to win an overtime 31-33. Varsity members still suffering from the flu fought an uphill fight to lose to Tech 34-31 and Washington 36-28. Recovering,

COACH KESSLER

The Purple mentor has coached three successive sectional champions; his 1937 squad beat Whiting 34-23 in the finals at Washington gym; his 1938 Wildcats whipped Roosevelt 28-22 in Hammond Civic Center; his 1939 team beat Whiting 31-27 at Roosevelt gym. Kessler's 1937 Wildcats were regional winners defeating Logansport and losing to a fast breaking Rochester outfit in the semi-final finale; the Purple of 1938 roared over all opposition to take its place in Butler field-house where it lost a two point 34-32 decision to South Side of Fort Wayne in the state finals; the 1939 Purple giants lost to LaPorte 27-20 in the first game of regional play in Gary Memorial auditorium.

KITTENS SHOWED POTENTIAL POWER.

Coached by Nelson, the "B" squad opened the weekly cage sessions at 7:00 and gained valuable experience as future members of the "A" squad. The Kittens compiled a win column of eight against that number of defeats. Mygrants, Ford, Ostendorf, Scott, Hurt and Sobek comprised the starting lineup.

A tip from Tech

INDIVIDUALS' SPEED AND HEIGHT GAVE PURPLE GAME CONTROL.

RF Hasse

A clever passer and floor man who coupled aggressive rebound play with consistent scoring netting him No. 2 point getter. Hasse set a new scoring record for sectional play in the Tech game spraying 22 points on spectacular field baskets and four free throws.

LF Ziemba

Using a giant frame to an advantage Zim gathered the rebounds and steadied the team with cool floor work.

C Scott

A 6' 6" center who used height to an advantage to grab rebounds and score 234 points, led the offensive end.

RG Ingram

A speed merchant whose ability to call the plays, pass, drive, and shoot proved invaluable to the Cats' cause.

LG Chintis

Heady floor work and drive made Tom a standout defensive and team player.

LF Evans

Joe's potshooting, faking and passing when the count was close provided the necessary push to win.

LG Mallet

Good ball handling and speed made Elmer's play dependable, and promising of a good senior year in 1940.

RG Gurnak

A fighting, flashy floorman who was always there adding more zip to team work.

RF Blackmun

Jerry's floor work and cool judgment made him dependable when the going was tough.

LG Stuart

Ability to control the ball and pass made Bill's play consistent.

PURPLE HARRIERS CLAIMED INDIANA CROWN.

Hammond High's Harriers won the unofficial 1938 cross country championship by defeating Froebel of Gary in the conference meet November 12 with a low 47 score as opposed to the Red Devils' 62. David Griffith took the individual state title with a time of 9:57 for the two mile course. Kenny Lytton was second. The seasonal count ended with six wins and two losses.

The freshmen hill and dale five — Andy Presco, Al Sutton, Ed Pele, Tom Flynn, and Leonard Schroeter won all of its three scheduled meets. Presco set the pace for the frosh by running the one lap on the Maywood Park course in 4:25.

Wrestlers Won Two Firsts in Conference Meet.

Coached by H. W. Staley, the matmen suffered heavily from an epidemic of flu. The regular season ended with seven wins and two losses. The grapplers defeated South Bend, Washington, Clark twice, Blue Island twice, Culver, Thornton Fractional and lost to Roosevelt twice. The grapplers managed a third in the Conference meet. Warner in the 95 and Miko in the heavyweight won firsts. Gollnor, 135 and Besterda, 175, won thirds. Three placed third in the state meet, Warner, 95; Agorichas, 115; Miko, heavyweight and won ninth in team rating to finish the '38-'39 mat season.

Tankmen Won Second Spot in State Swim Meet.

The tankmen coached by H. W. Staley swam a seasonal win of 10 and 1 defeat. Their opponents — Champaign, Illinois; Whiting, Washington, Horace Mann, Lew Wallace, and South Bend Central were swept in the quays for six successive meets. Culver outdistanced the Purple and White swimmers 57-9. Champaign, Illinois (twice), Danville, Illinois and Thornton Fractional succumbed next in succession. The mermen managed to place second to South Bend Central in the Conference meet. The cats entered the state meet at South Bend and eked out a poor second, to beat Horace Mann, their nearest opponent by six points. The Wildcats took seconds in the 160 yard free style relay, diving by Bauer, the 100 yard free style by DeLong and the 40 yard free style by Barney; a third and fourth in the 100 yard back; third in the 180 yard medley relay; fifth in the 100 yard breast with a total of 36 points. South Bend Central won the state championship with 66 points.

DIAMOND MEN WERE BOLSTERED BY MILLER, MALLET.

Coached by Karl Huffine, new baseball mentor of the Wildcats, the baseball team opened against Washington of East Chicago, the Senators winning 14-1. The squad, based around Elmer Mallett, second baseman, and Bob Miller, first baseman, the only two returning varsity players, won two and lost six. The prospects for the 1940 season are good.

GOLF SQUAD PLACED FIFTH IN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Coached by Mr. C. T. Garrett, the golf squad won from Thornton of Harvey and Lew Wallace, lost to Valparaiso and placed fifth with 356 in the Northern Indiana High School Conference Golf Championship. Joe Evans, veteran of last year's team shoots 75-80.

SPIKEMEN WON SECOND STATE INDOOR TITLE.

Bill Easton's indoor trackmen opened the '39 season with a win of 43½ points to University High's 42½. The narrow win margin was made possible by the half mile relay team. New Trier at Winnetka proved a mighty foe as the Purplemen succumbed to a 75-22 score. Easton's men were handicapped by the flu epidemic, at Notre Dame, North Side of Ft. Wayne was outdistanced 67-31. Unofficially ceded as the state indoor meet, the Gary Indoor Track and Field Meet at Notre Dame fieldhouse was won by the Purple by the slim margin of 49 1/3 to Froebel's 44. This was the second indoor title for the Purple spikemen. Individual champions for the Purple and White runners were Wally Ziembra who put the shot 49 feet to lead the field in that event; David Griffith, who took first in the mile; and Tommy Woolard, who led the pack in the 880 yard race. Griffith's time for the mile was 4:40 and Woolard's for the half mile was 2:09. State champion broad jumper Bob Cobb continued his winning ways with a leap of 21 ft. 10 in. The other first was taken by the mile relay team which is composed of Cleo Hennines, Albert Ford, Adam Kwolek and Bernard Johnson in the time of 3:43. Seconds were scored by Warren Krager in the shot put and the 880 yard relay team.

THINLIES SWEPT SECTIONAL TRIALS.

The outdoor season was limited to four meets not including the sectional and state. Froebel proved second best to the Eastonians by a close one at the Muncie Relays at Muncie. The jinx of the Kokomo Relays prevailed 64½ to 44½ as the Cats took it on the nose, Hammond 32½; Froebel 36½. Bob Cobb established a new record in the broad jump with 22 feet and 10 inches. Arch rivals, the Red Devils of Froebel again tangled and gained a little revenge from the indoor beating in besting the Purple Thinlies in the N.I.H.S.C. meet at Roosevelt 60-53. Hammond trackmen scored 85 out of a possible 135 points in the sectional trials on Roosevelt field in East Chicago, grabbing ten of thirteen firsts. The Eastons coasted to wins in both relays and won eight of eleven first places in the individual events. Purple thinlies finished one-two in six of the individual events.

Seniors Were Champions in Three Sports.

SPEEDBALL

With the biting winds of November urging them on, the class teams played the double elimination speedball tournament, the seniors kicking their way to victory, beating the sophomores by a score of 8-0.

The varsity players chosen for speedball were Thomas, Randazzo, Klebs, Brunner, Tsouchlos, Andree, Trowe, Campbell, Bereolos, Wittig, Krug, Hinkel, Heineman, Tsouchlos, and Ashby.

VOLLEYBALL

In the January net tourney the seniors served up scores of 15-1 and 15-2 against their final competitors, the sophomores, to become undisputed champions. Climbing to the championship in three steps, the first two being the freshmen and juniors, they disposed of all opposition that was set for them without much ado.

The varsity players chosen for volleyball were Randazzo, Andree, Trowe, Kintzing, Klebs, Wittig, Samuelson, Krug, Bereolos, Ashby, Schmidt, and Heath.

BASKETBALL

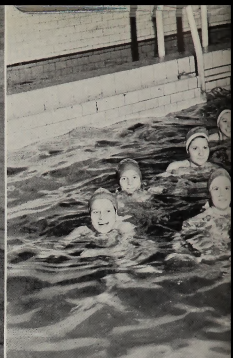

Ho-hum, the seniors won the basketball tourney. Prosaic though it may sound, it was a hotly contested tournament, although the score of the final game against the juniors was 21-11. This was the third consecutive contest the seniors had won without losing a single skirmish or being seriously threatened.

The varsity players chosen for basketball were Tsouchlos, Lorenz, Klebs, Andree, Reid, Wittig, Cooper, Krug, Ashby, Bereolos, Samuelson, and Heath.

SWIMMING

This is news! The freshmen won aquatic honors for the first time. They put a halt to the two year winning streak of the juniors, outsplashing them 42-39 in the final relays.

Varsity swimmers chosen from the squads were Bacon, Keith, Lee, Wach, Harrison, Housley, Kintzing, Blocker, Downing, Lawson, Heineman, and Matovina.

G. A. C. Playday.

The Hammond High chapter of the G. A. A. was host to seventeen schools May 13, at the state G. A. A. playday sponsored by the Indiana League of High School Girls' Athletic Associations. Each school brought seventeen girls making a total of approximately 275. Representatives from all parts of the state came to participate in the various events.

The purpose of playday was to introduce new activities, particularly of the recreational type, as well as

1. Waiting for the shuttle-cock.
- Girls playing aerial dart
2. Nymphs of "The Magic Urn"
3. The setting for "The Magic Urn", water pageant given by G.A.C.
4. The king and queen and their hand maidens in processional formation in "The Magic Urn" to offer wholesome social situations among schools for an interchange of ideas and practice.

All guest schools received state plaques.

The nautical theme was carried out by Alice Krug, general chairman, and her general committee composed of Beatrice Bereolos, Angeline Tsouchlos, Delores Ashby, Dorothy Saluelson, Dorothy Downing, Genevieve Hartzler, and Margaret Demyanovich.

Miss Anderson and Miss Dietrich were faculty sponsors of the affair.

THE UN-SEEING EYES

Eyes, those highly sensitive globular structures of vision which are our capacity for seeing both mentally and physically, are of many kinds, namely laughing eyes, murderous eyes, scornful eyes, favoring eyes, pitying eyes, angry eyes, unseeing eyes (mental sense) and loving eyes, all of which come in the following colors of the spectrum: blue, grey, brown, black, hazel, and sometimes pink.

The unseeing eye in regard to modern art is the one in my possession; therefore, we shall dwell on it throughout this dissertation.

Museums, institutes, books, magazines, lectures and classes all in art have failed to educate my visionary orbits thoroughly, for they continue to cringe and look away when they settle on the so called "masterpieces of art." As for seeing these overcolored, speckled bits of painting mentally, my eyes can't register delight to the eager grey matter or vice versa. First of all no meaning steps out from the canvas and presents itself before my startled sensitized visionary organs, and they see no benefit from discerning the meaning for themselves.

The only art which my beauty seeking eyes can obtain any joy from is nature's art, and here they out do themselves in their reactions to it. They can dance and sparkle at the sight of a sunset, blooming flowers, colored leaves, vast forests, oceans, and lakes and in doing so make my whole person feel uplifted. But not so with the framed art of museums, for it is depressing in its ability to shower forth misunderstanding.

Therefore, I shall leave the Art of the Masters to those eyes who appreciate it fully and obtain some joy from it, and in my own unpretentious manner allow my eyes to discern only the unframed natural beauty of the world.

EMILY POST ON THE ETIQUETTE OF SHAVING

This morning while consorting with death as in my daily task, I chanced that mark that perhaps aspiring young gentlemen may wish to know the proper etiquette of shaving. I have here prepared a manual on the proper approach to this delicate subject. I must first state that to reap the stubble one must arrange one's features to the best advantage. This requires contortions and expressions that I will not take the time to describe, they being indescribable, anyhow.

Before beginning on the actual manipulations of one's razor, I must comment on the type of instrument used. Only fools, condemned criminals, the brave and those who just don't care ever use a straight-razor. The misnomer! "safety" razor is by far the more popular. I do not know which is the more deadly but I prefer anything to the cold, naked steel. With a straight-razor one shaves others, never himself, if he has any sense. When one has chosen his instrument of torture, he then proceeds to the next step. Assuming, of course, that his face now bears a close resemblance to that of a mad dog's; i. e. is well lathered, the gentleman proceeds to gamble his unmarred face against Fate. Fate usually wins. The gentleman begins to reap where his sideburns leave off. He shears off the mass of growth and also any and all bumps, projections, and outcroppings of skin that may be so rash as to contest the right-of-way with the razor. After a liberal use of the septic pencil and occasionally even mercuriochrome, he turns his other cheek.

To his neck belongs the next place of honor in the "swing" parade. He "mows" down the offending wisps. Here is where one needs the aid of "it soothes your nerves." Here one needs also a steady hand, an untroubled mind, and a liberal supply of choice adjectives all meaning: "Shucks, I cut myself again."

The line between one's neck and cheek is the danger point as is the adam's apple. These are points where special care is called for. Use your own discretion at these points.

EMILY POST ON THE

The "misplaced-eyebrow" comes next. A general assault is launched from left to right. The idea here is to keep one's upper lip and the tip of the nose intact.

One's chin, the point on which one receives the well known knock-out punch, is scraped clean and the little space below the lower lip is also cleaned.

A little powdering will cover up all the bruises and abrasions.

A gentleman need not have good manners or a nickel in his jeans, as long as he is clean-shaven, for he will pass anywhere.

—Mike Halgas

I wish I had an automobile,
A Ford-V-Eight would do.
I'd ride around for many a mile
The countryside to view.

I wish I had an airplane
That would not eat up gas
To Greece, to France, to Wales,
and Spain,
O'er all the seas I'd pass.

I wish I had a steady job,
A yearly salary
I'd never fret nor need I rob,
But live my life carefree.

I wish I had a wide estate
That'd cover a goodly mile.
I'd hunt and golf and ne'er berate
My life, my home, but smile.

Such thoughts go on and on and on,
And they must sometimes stop
And back to sordid life anon,
To grease, to mend, to mop.

SAFETY CONSCIOUS WILLIE

He drives his car with all the grace,
Of some old spinster 'dorned in lace.
With both his hands upon the wheel,
Never does a kiss he steal.

"Never past 50", his motto true,
For the love of this he'd even duel.
Reconditioned is his car —
Safe he travels near and far.

Obeying all the signs and lights,
Never gaping at "cute" sights.
Protect the peds, the little dears,
For this he emphatically cheers.

Never cross, always in sort
Inebriation he does not court,
Pugnacious at the sight of gin
Abstaining from it as a sin.

Religiously he always parks
In spaces unadorned by yellow marks.
All the jaywalkers he has missed,
Ah, you've guessed it, he doesn't exist.

ACTIVITIES

Hammond High's physical education program for boys includes competitive sports, athletic games and stunts, intramural contests, and the required gymnasium activities. During the 1938-39 season approximately 420 boys participated in the sports program which included football, cross country, tennis, track, baseball, golf, bowling, basketball, swimming, wrestling, indoor track, outdoor track, and fencing. The intramural contests, which were held in softball, speedball, basketball, and water polo attracted 700 pupils. The intramural basketball tourney, directed by Mr. Witham, brought out 400 boys, Johnston's Jasons representing advisory 212 winning the final contest over Shanner's Sluggers. In the required swimming and gym classes there were 350 enrolled. Mr. Huffine directs the activities of the physical education department. A junior organization of Sigma Delta Psi was organized. Any boy in high school who successfully passes the prescribed tests is eligible for membership into the fraternity.

AN UNSUCCESSFUL PAINTER

I tried to paint the forest standing stately on the hill,

But couldn't paint the silence or my quiet peaceful thrill.

I then tried drawing newly plowed fields far out upon the plain,

But didn't catch the fresh sweet smell of earth just after rain.

So I went to the city where all things are large and fine

And thought perhaps a portrait would be nearer to my line.

I sketched a famous singer, but my picture was all wrong,

It didn't show her moving lips, nor could you hear her song.

I drew the moonlight on the sea
in dancing silv'ry band

But couldn't paint the sound of surf that beat upon the sand.

I sketched two lovers in the park,
results of cupid's darts.

They never seemed quite real to me,
I couldn't paint their hearts.

I drew a Christmas dinner, rich with fruits of all the land

But art of reproducing taste is foreign to the hand.

So I'm an unsuccessful painter, my career is done,

For God gave us the senses five,
And I can paint but one.

TO THE STUDENT:

You hear much of organized Labor today — You hear good and you hear bad. But regardless of what or how much you hear, Labor Unions, especially Industrial type unions, are becoming and will continue to be a dominant and influential element in our economic life.

The student who has the courage to face the turmoil of our economic life will do well to study all phases of labor organization — study them with the objective of correcting the evils and building up the good points. The future leadership of organized labor must come from the student body of today. Much depends upon the type of leadership which you, the students, will give this great movement.

FOOTBALL PHOBIA

If you ever have the misfortune to attend a football game, (and you probably will or have), you need to know the proper procedure of how to enjoy yourself the least and make those around you most miserable.

First, you must arrive about two hours before the kickoff, so that you obtain a portion of the bleacher in the center of the hubbub. If it is an out-of-town game, the time can be spent profitably in discussing how much dimmer the lights are and how much more uncared for the field is than at home. You might talk about the merits or demerits of the different players, always trying to give an impression that you know what you're talking about.

When the opposition's band appears, you should compare it unfavorably with the home band. It is also desirable to laugh at their uniforms.

When your team appears, you start to yell. You continue to yell, with brief pauses for singing and eating ice cream, until the game ends. Midway in the game, when your throat feels like parchment and you yearn for nothing but water — then you proceed to buy candy, popcorn, peanuts, or any other thirst-provoking article. Peanuts are preferable, because the shells make excellent missiles to throw at press men, or anyone else who is near. One amusing pastime is to try to hit the referee. Wrappers from candy may be deposited down someone's back.

At about the beginning of the second half, it will probably begin to rain. This is not the signal to leave, however. It merely lends a certain variety to the entertainment.

Whenever your team gains a first down, you should shake a cowbell vigorously in the ears of the person before you, even if you don't know what a first down is.

You must boo loud and long if your team is penalized. You might, if you wish to be original, shout at the referee, "What are they paying you?"

The final result of the game (next day) is a sore throat, a cold, and a hoarse voice. You might even have a black eye or a touch of pneumonia.

If your team has lost, a good excuse is that the referee was bribed. An alternative is the excuse that the other team didn't play fair.

If this method of procedure doesn't appeal to you, don't attend football games. You lack the proper spirit and the requisites of a true sport's fan.

NIGHT IS SHY

Night is shy;
She creeps upon us slowly
And we know her only
By the shades she casts
Before her step.
She won't be seen,
But wraps herself
In cloaks of darkness,
And softly steals across the land.
Mysterious,
Welcome,
But unknown.

—Norma Abbett

FIVE DOORS AWAY

On warm summer evenings she sits heavily in her rocker on the porch looking at the world in general from her small, piggish eyes. Her large head, topped by numerous braids of assorted sizes, is supported by a neck literally cushioned in rolls of fat, which she adjusts accordingly when the object in sight gets beyond her particular range of view. Her two chins almost touch her billowy front.

Her small, pudgy hands rest quietly in her ample lap. The only move or sound is the occasional swish of Garrett's snuff or tobacco juice which rocks the container at her side.

Her enormous body peep from a skin-tight dress which in turn is covered by a cookery, her grandson's contributions and other domestic rituals.

A pair of her husband's shoes cut at vital spots and cotton stockings complete her never changing wardrobe.

MR. HOBO

The tired old hobo dragged wearily up the back steps and knocked hesitantly at the kitchen door. I opened the door having seen him coming up the walk and surveyed the object before me.

He was a wizened little man covered with many layers of cast-off clothing hovering between fifty or sixty. A coat, a dull rusty black, hung loosely from his stooped shoulders almost to his knees. A threadbare old vest peeped from a corner of his coat while a faded red handkerchief tightly encircled his scrawny neck. His baggy trousers, scuffed and worn, gave him an elephantine look about his lower anatomy. But his shoes were an odd contrast to the rest of his outfit. They were bright, shiny, and new and he kept looking down at them and back at me from his red-rimmed eyes half concealed by a battered old cap. He kept his hands buried somewhere in the voluminous regions of his trousers. His skin was the color of a puckered old lemon and was crisscrossed with a thousand lines and wrinkles. His impudent nose wrinkled as he caught a whiff of hot gingerbread, and he screwed his unbelievably small hard mouth into a circle and looked at me hopefully.
